To Whom It May Concern:

I will make opinion very short and concise. I would consider any seizure or forced enrollment of my defined contribution plans, into such a program as theft. A choice to enroll for those that wish to is acceptable, as many have a limited financial IQ or no appetite to manage their own investments.

Personally I would never elect to take part in a governmental ponsi scheme such as this, as I would bet my life that it would quickly end up like Social Security, and the US Congress spending the money faster than it comes in.
